

SLEEP AND THE ATHLETE

WHY IS SLEEP IMPORTANT?

Sleep is when the body rests and repairs major systems and organs, such as: your muscle tissues, brain, and your cardiovascular, nervous and immune systems. The National Sleep Foundation recommends that high schoolers get 8 to 10 hours of sleep each night. If you are an athlete, you may need at least 9 hours each night!

GETTING ENOUGH QUALITY SLEEP BENEFITS YOUR HEALTH, PERFORMANCE AND LEARNING

FASTER SPRINT TIMES: You will be quicker during practice and the game!

ENHANCES FINE MOTOR SKILLS REQUIRED FOR SPORTS: You will execute sport techniques better!

IMPROVED MOOD AND SENSE OF WELL-BEING: You will feel happier!

BETTER MEMORY, FOCUS AND ATTENTION: You will retain more of what you learn!

PROLONGED STAMINA: You won't tire as easily during class, practice or games!

THE RISKS OF NOT GETTING ENOUGH SLEEP

DECREASED PHYSICAL PERFORMANCE: You will be slower and have a harder time executing your sports skills.

DECREASED MOOD: You will feel sluggish and less happy

DECREASED MEMORY, FOCUS, AND ATTENTION: You may fall asleep in class, feel hazy, and perform poorly in school.

DECREASED IMMUNE SYSTEM: You will be at higher risk of illness and face longer recovery time.

YOUR SLEEP CHECKLIST

- Prepare yourself for sleep! Schedule your evening to devote enough time for sleep. Finish meals, snacks, and drinking fluids at least 2 hours before sleep. Also, avoid caffeine in the afternoon and evening hours.
- Be consistent! Getting on a good sleep schedule and sticking to it will help your body get used to shutting down for sleep.
- Your sleep space matters! It is best to sleep in a dark, cool and quiet environment. Close the blinds and keep outside noise to a minimum.
- Turn off distractions! Avoid artificial lights before bed, especially electronics as they can trick your brain into thinking it is time to be awake.
